

THE FLASH

Volume 55 Issue 8
May 14, 2012

WHEREFOR

art thou

Alyssa Burrill

Spring?

Spring O Spring, where for art thou Spring?
That is the question; Where is spring? The amazing season that is so short lived! Where are you Spring? Where is your bright sunshine and warmth melting all the snow Where are all of your beautiful flower blossoms? Where is the quiet pitter patter of your warm tears peacefully dwindling all of the cold, snowfull memories away.
Where is the loud crack and boom of your lightning shower? Lighting up our world in oh so many ways. We miss you Spring! Did you forget us: Take a vacation? Why is Mother Nature so bipolar. Bring sunshine and warmth one day, and cold and snow the next. You're so late! The creel is calling my name but it's so cold. You're oh so late Spring. Please cone soon and please stay a wile. That was a long, cold, and cruel April Fool's joke. Spring you were so late! You're here now that's what matters, but you were so late. I have just one more question, Prof Sullivan, can you give Spring Detention?

Contents

Track.....	4
The Meadow	4
Banquet	4
Senior plans	5
Patrick McDonald ...	5
Miriam Bernthal.....	7
Aaron Wilke	8
The Year in Review	9

Flash Staff

Editors

Nate Buck Becca Naumann

Layout Editors

Danielle Gerbitz

Advisor

Prof. Joe Lau

Typists

Olivia Albrecht Sarah Joos Kirsten Brandle

Copyist

Sam Wittorp

For this Issue

Contributors

Alyssa Burrill

Emily Hein

Joci Gamble

Kirsten Brandle

Jack McDonald

Jess Schaller

Nathan Rodebaugh

Lydia Albrecht

Cover Art

Abby Naumann

From The Editors

The School year is drawing to a close and summer is shining like a light at the end of the finals' week tunnel. Some of you may be looking forward to a lazy three months full of sun and relaxation, or maybe a summer job. To those of you who are leaving Immanuel, you will be missed. ILC won't be the same without that crazy class of 2013. We are so thankful for the opportunity to get to know you and the friendships that have formed between us. We pray the Lord guides you in this new part of your life.

Have a great summer, keep in touch, and Lord's Blessings.

Your new Flash Editors,

NATE & Becca
Buck Naumann

May

Birthdays

3rd Maddy Burns

5th Joci Gamble

Rhiannon Roehl

6th Paige Louderman

10th Drew Naumann

12th Tim Schaller

17th Shannon McDonald

21th Zach Sippert

25th Liz Fox

30th Philip Reim

2

Track:

An Observer's View

By Emily Hein

I know you might be thinking, "Emily isn't in track. Why is she writing this article?" Well, you would be correct. I am not in track. However, I did have the pleasure of going to the meet at Independence on Tuesday, April 30.

I really enjoyed going to the meet. It was a lot of fun to see all the different events. There was a large variety of things to do, like shot put, discus, high jump, relays, dashes, long jump, triple jump; the list goes on and on. The cool thing with track is you only have to do events that you want to do. You get a lot of freedom, from what I've seen.

After going to the track meet, I can see how much fun track is. It's making me rethink my decision not to join this year, and I hope you might think about joining next year, too!

The Meadow

Joci Gamble

Beneath a sky full of sunshine,
In a field full of flowers,
Nature thrives in glory,
Working beauty with peaceful powers.

In a meadow full of moonlight,
In a garden under the stars,
God's majesty is clear,
On a world without scars.

The sun is slowly rising,
Bringing a new day with the dawn,
And the Meadow is always hopeful;
The blissful souls sing on.

Banquet

KIRSTEN BRANDLE

This year's banquet was unlike any other. It partly had to do with the interesting themes we had this year. The actual banquet's theme was Masquerade and the after-banquet was Oscars/Hollywood. At dinner, each of the tables was decorated with a centerpiece containing masks for the ladies and mustaches for the gentlemen. There were also some chocolates and mints for the enjoyment of the guests. The decorations were very elegant. The Banquet Committee had strung up twinkling Christmas lights around the room and hung purple tulle with them. Before eating, couples had the option of taking pictures outside on the scenic golf course. The dinner was delicious! Dinner mainly included an assortment of vegetables, fruits, potatoes, chicken, gravy, and beef. (People who were looking forward to gravy found themselves with the dilemma of finding the ladel in the gravy!)

After-banquet was super fun as well! As you walked down the red carpet, “paparazzi” came up and took your picture. Then it was all up to you. There were different games set up around the Oscar-decorated gym. The most fun was definitely the photo booth. There were different props you could use for your pictures (my favorite was the clapboard). After about an hour of milling around looking for a good time, Prof. Roehl announced it was time for the music videos. These videos were made by students of his computer classes. They were judged by parent volunteers, and some of the better videos got awards for how well they followed the grading rubric. The video that won Best Music Video was “22” created by Grace Sprengler, Joci Gamble, Kayla Barthels, and Laura Naumann. The video that sticks out most in my mind though was “Big Girls Don't Cry” created by Grant Hulke, Mattias Schaller, and Caleb Oster.

The Night was a memorable evening, to say the least. Thank you to the Banquet Committee for all your hard work. Everything looked fantastic! And a big thanks to the After Banquet Committee who transformed our gym into a red carpet that everyone will be talking about!

What are you doing next year?

Nathan R: CVTC for generals
Juice: CVTC for Machine tooling technics
Lydia A: One semester off to live with my sister and her baby in South Carolina, The second semester at UW-Washau.
Jake N: Working and having fun
JD: Marines
Wilke: Construction Work
Josh H: CVTC for the welding program
Miriam B: Tech School in Fond du Lac to study Culinary Arts
Cora G: UW-Washau for Education generals
Hannah H: UW-Stout for dietetics
Megan W: CVTC for early childhood education
Paige L: Columbia College of Chicago
Lauren L: UW-Milwaukee for History
Jake G: Arizona for college
Logan G: Marines
Karl S: working
Patrick M: One semester off then welding degree from CVTC
Michelle R: UW-Eau Claire- I aspire to be a unicorn
Jess S: SDSU for a year or two, then UW to finish my program
Sarah T: University of Minnesota for generals, maybe speech therapy
Derek B: Texas Tech University
Drew N: working
Hannah K: UW Eau Claire for human resource management
Claire L: CVTC- Physical Therapist Assistant
Mikayla M: UW Eau Claire
Maddy B: probably CVTC for generals
Curtis S: college at NDSU
Abbie H: UMBC
Jo O: CVTC for Medical Assistant
Abby S: Community college for exercise science
Kenny W: Working

Q: What are your plans for world domination after graduation?

A: I'm gonna learn how to weld

Q: Who shot first?

A: Han Solo

Q: If you could coup any country, what would it be?

A: Cuba or Venezuela

Q: Where is your favorite place?

A: Seattle, Washington

Q: What's on your iPod?

A: Lots of stuff: Alice in Chains, Breaking Benjamin, stuff like that

Q: Paper or Plastic?

A: Paper cash, paper bags

Q: What is the answer?

A: 42

Q: Iron Man or Batman?

A: Clark Kent

Q: What are you going to be when you grow up?

A: I'm gonna be a welder. I'm gonna weld what I need to weld

Q: If there was one thing in the world you could have, what would it be?

A: 10 more things!

Q: How many hours of detention have you served?

A: At least 24...

Patrick

Scott

McDonald

By Jack McDonald

[Favorites]

Hymn: 400

Color: orange

Food: lasagna

Vehicle: 1970 Buick GSX

Restaurant: Hastings Way McDonalds (sarcasm)

6

Miriam

Anna Mae

Bernthal

By Jess Schaller

Date of Birth: September 30, 1994

Places you've lived: Coloma, MI and Fond du Lac, WI

Number of siblings: 6

Any special talents: I have a sixth sense my knee can always tell when it's gonna rain... Well, it can tell when it's raining...

View on Cup Thursdays: ...I view it as throat punch Thursday

Top High School memories:

1. Grilling Junior year
2. Toast with Job Noeldner
3. My BFITWWW

Where is waldo?

In the kitchen

Hogwarts or Alarhia?

Hogwarts all the way!

What was your shining moment in high school?

Taking ALL of the menus

Who is your inspiration? Why?

Jessica Schaller. She knows...

What is your favorite day of the week? Why?

Wednesday...It's quite pleasurable.

On a scale from 7-24, 24 being the least, how excited are you for Allegiant?

O...My excitement cannot be measured...

Pants?

Never

What is the plural of octopus?

I can't even...

The funniest person you know? Why?

Madelyn Burns. You don't even know...

7

Aaron MICHAEL Wilke

By Nathan Rodebaugh and Joci Gamble

Many of you know Aaron Wilke as a large senior with a weird fascination for tigers, and a nasty mole in his armpit. I happen to know a bit more about him and will share with you what I know. Wilke was born of June 25, 1995. He is the third of four boys. For the entire time I've known Wilke, he has always done stuff that begs the question, "What went through your head?" One time we were at Randy's Restaurant and the waitress asked if he wanted salad. He responded with, "I'll have lettuce, with ranch." Then there was the time he punched a hole through the window because he was trying to kill a wasp. These are just a few of the dumb things he has done. The last thing I want you guys to know about Wilke is he is a creature of habit. He eats the same way each morning; he snores every night; and he has to date a girl at least twice because apparently once isn't enough. Finally, if you haven't ever talked to Wilke, I advise you to try it this week. You never know, you might be the first one to get intelligent information about of him (or you may just get mumbling).

WHERE WILL WILKE BE IN 10 YEARS?

Bryan S: a garbage can

Jack Mielke: tattoo artist who only does tiger tattoos

Sam L: Lives in Asia to be with the tigers

JD: waiting for springtime

Danielle: getting his 121st tiger tattoo

Nick N: training tigers for the circus

Caleb O: starting a tiger farm in the jungle

P Lau: pastor at a CLC church

Kurt: zookeeper

Jess S: probably dead; of living in a house full of wardrobes, thinking one of them leads to Narnia

Joseph: cashier at Walmart

END OF THE YEAR

Thoughts

By Lydia Albrecht

So, as everyone has been saying, it's the end of the year. A couple of things could have told you that- the Lances are out, everyone is signing them, banquet has come and gone in a flash, talks of class trips and graduation are happening, field day is approaching, and classes are winding down. Summer fever has arrived, and for the student body, that means different things. Either you're anticipating coming back to ILC next semester or are graduating and moving on to whatever future God has planned for you. The latter thing mentioned is a little scary for me, since I'm not sure what that future is holding, and I'm sure many other seniors would say the same thing. We may not be sure where we'll be, when we'll see our friends that we made at ILC, or who else we'll meet. It's kind of a scary thing. While I was pondering that thought recently, I thought of passages that I want all of you to remember. First off, our class passage is a great comfort, Jeremiah 29:11, "For I know the plans I have for you," declares the LORD, "plans to prosper you and not to harm you, plans to give you a hope and a future."

Second, Proverbs 3:5, "Trust in the Lord with all your heart, and lean not on your own understanding, in all your ways acknowledge Him, and He will direct your paths." We can trust and believe with all our hearts that the Lord will have a great life for us. Everything happens for a reason. The Lord plans it, whether it's to test us, strengthen us, or bless us. In this aspect of looking at the future, it becomes an exciting thing. This is because we know that everything that will happen in our future will be for our good. God will direct our paths. We need to keep in mind what God would want us to do and live the Godly life that would please Him. Fellow Christian friends can help with that. Christian friends are what we made here. So, although we're parting here, we will surely never forget our time together. I hope to stay in touch with each and every one of you and find out what God's plan for you was. God be with you.

